John John Bed

The John-John Bed is built low and drawn thin. A single slim platform carries the mattress and extends past it on all four sides, edged with a soft rounded lip, so the mattress sits on the frame rather than sinking into a box. Beneath it, four slender polished aluminium blade legs lift the whole plane clear of the floor — light passes underneath, and a king-size bed keeps a low horizon in the room. At the head, a shallow shell rakes backward with its sides turning slightly forward, and two loose greige leather cushions rest against it, plump and unstructured, giving at the back the way a sofa does. Behind them the shell is upholstered smooth and divided by evenly spaced vertical seams — finished to be seen, so the bed can stand away from the wall as easily as against it.

MATERIALS:

Internal Frame:	Kiln-dried timber with steel reinforcement, fully concealed within the upholstery
Headboard:	Backward-raked shell with forward-angled sides, upholstered front and back
Back Cushions:	Two loose cushions filled with soft polyurethane foam and a polyester fibre wrap
Padding:	High-resilience polyurethane foam with a polyester fibre wrap
Platform:	Slim timber deck upholstered on all four sides with a rounded edge lip
Support:	Slatted timber base beneath the mattress
Cover:	Greige leather, single-needle stitched
Legs:	Polished aluminium blade legs with protective floor glides

FEATURES:

Loose Leather Back Cushions:	Two full cushions rest against the headboard instead of being built into it, upholstered in the same leather as the frame and soft enough to lean back against for reading
Floating Platform:	The base is a single thin plane that extends past the mattress on every side with a soft rounded lip, so the mattress sits on the frame rather than inside it
Blade Legs:	Slim flat polished aluminium legs lift the platform clear of the floor, letting light and shadow pass beneath a king-size frame
Seamed Headboard Reverse:	The back of the shell is upholstered smooth and divided by evenly spaced vertical seams, finished to be seen when the bed stands away from a wall
Raked Shell Profile:	The headboard angles back from the platform with its sides turning slightly forward, framing the cushions without enclosing the bed
Low Sleeping Height:	The platform sits 10 inches from the floor, keeping the whole bed low in the room
Maintenance:	Wipe leather with a soft dry cloth and condition periodically; keep out of prolonged direct sunlight
Assembly:	Assembly required — legs bolt to the platform, headboard mounts to the frame, cushions supplied loose
